Project Overview & Objectives

What we are building, why, and how it benchmarks against the industry leader.

1.1 Project Background

Layte LifeScience Pvt. Ltd. is a pharmaceutical products dealer and supplier based in New Delhi, India. The company supplies a wide range of products — including injectable antibiotics, antifungal creams, syrups, tonics, eye & ear drops, surgical goods, vaccines, and diagnostic products — to semi-regulated and non-regulated markets across India and internationally.

The current website (laytelifesciencepvtltd.vercel.app) is a single-page scroll site that lacks the depth, credibility, and visual authority expected by institutional buyers, hospitals, pharmacy chains, and B2B partners in the pharmaceutical sector. The client requires a complete redesign that delivers the same trust, professionalism, and brand authority as Dr. Reddy's Laboratories (drreddys.com), one of India's most respected pharmaceutical companies.

1.2 Business Goals

Primary Goal	Build a 7–10 page professional pharmaceutical website that instills confidence, credibility, and trust among institutional buyers, hospital procurement managers, pharmacy chains, and B2B partners.
Design Reference	Match the visual feel, design language, and trust architecture of drreddys.com — the gold standard for Indian pharma web presence.
Brand Positioning	Elevate Layte LifeScience from 'local pharma dealer' to 'quality-driven national pharmaceutical supplier' through design, content, and information architecture.
Conversion Goal	Drive enquiries, partnership requests, and product quote submissions through clear CTAs and B2B-focused content.

1.3 Scope of Work

- Complete redesign of homepage with cinematic hero, stats counter, and trust elements
- Creation of 7 primary pages (Homepage, About, Products, Quality, Capabilities, Leadership, Contact)
- Implementation of Dr. Reddy's-inspired color scheme and design language
- Mega-menu navigation architecture replacing flat anchor links
- Video integration strategy (3 key placements)
- Certifications & compliance section with badge display
- Mobile-responsive layout across all pages
- WhatsApp enquiry integration and multi-department contact form
- Stats counter section with animated numbers on scroll

- Professional footer with sitemap, certifications, and social links

1.4 Competitive Reference Analysis

A detailed comparative analysis was performed between drreddys.com and the current Layte LifeScience website. The following table summarizes the critical gaps identified:

Attribute	Dr. Reddy's (Reference)	Layte LifeScience (Current)	Gap
Structure	Multi-page (10+ pages)	Single scroll-page	Critical
Navigation	Mega-menu with dropdowns	Flat anchor links	Critical
Hero Section	Full-screen video + tagline	Static image + basic text	Critical
Trust Signals	Stats, news, leadership, certs	3 testimonials only	Critical
Color Scheme	Deep blue #1B5E9B + navy	Generic blue #3498db	High
Brand Tone	Scientific, mission-driven	Generic, dealer-focused	High
Quality Page	Dedicated compliance page	Not present	Critical
Leadership	Team profiles + bios	Not present	High
Typography	Large-scale, bold hierarchy	Standard, small scale	High
Video Content	Brand + science videos	YouTube embeds only	Medium

Video Strategy — Where, What & Why

Video placement map, content guidance, and production notes for building maximum trust.

4.1 Video Placement Map

Dr. Reddy's uses video as a primary trust mechanism — not decoration. Every video placement on their site serves a specific emotional or informational purpose. We replicate this strategy for Layte LifeScience with 3 high-impact video placements.

V1	Homepage	Hero Section — Before Stats and CTA	Brand Facility Walkthrough	15-30 second loop showing the warehouse, product range, packaging process
V2	Quality & Compliance	After Quality Process Steps	Director CTA Banner	20-60 second video of director speaking directly to camera about quality commitment
V3	About Us	After Our Story section — Before CTA	Company Story / Director Message	30-90 second video of the founder/director speaking about the company's mission

4.2 Video Production Notes

- If professional video is not immediately available, use a high-quality stock video of pharmaceutical manufacturing/laboratory as a TEMPORARY hero placeholder — but replace with real footage ASAP.
- Hero video should be hosted on your own server or CDN (not YouTube) — it should autoplay, loop, be muted, and load fast. Recommended format: MP4, H.264, 1920x1080, under 8MB.
- Director message videos (V2, V3) can be filmed with a good smartphone in a clean, well-lit room — professional quality editing is more important than expensive equipment.
- Add subtitles to all spoken-word videos — many users browse with sound off on mobile.
- On mobile devices, show a static image fallback instead of autoplay video for performance.
- Thumbnail for embedded videos: use a professional still frame with a centered play button overlay.
- All videos must have proper lighting, clear audio (if spoken), and a clean, uncluttered background.

Trust-Building Elements

Specific design components that convert skeptical visitors into confident buyers.

5.1 Stats Counter Section

Animated number counters are one of the highest-impact trust elements on pharmaceutical websites. They communicate scale, experience, and confidence — especially when placed immediately after the hero.

Layout	Dark navy (#0D2E4A) background, full-width section, 4 stats in a row
Counter 1	"10+" — Years of Experience
Counter 2	"500+" — Products in Portfolio
Counter 3	"20+" — States We Serve
Counter 4	"1,000+" — Institutional Clients
Animation	JavaScript count-up from 0 to target value when section scrolls into viewport
Typography	72px bold blue numbers (#1B5E9B) + 18px white label below each
Dividers	Thin vertical dividers (rgba white 0.2) between each stat

5.2 Certifications & Compliance Badges

- Display certification badges prominently on both the Quality page AND the homepage footer area
- Each badge should be a clean card: white background, certification logo/icon, name, and issuing body
- Include: DCGI Registration | CDSCO License | WHO-GMP Compliance | State Drug License | GST Registration
- If you have a physical certificate document, add a 'Download Certificate' PDF link
- Badge row should also appear in the website footer on every page — this is a constant trust signal

5.3 Testimonials & Social Proof

- Minimum 4–6 testimonials — ideally from hospital pharmacists, procurement managers, or distributors
- Include: Full name, designation (e.g. 'Chief Pharmacist'), and organization name
- Use a professional avatar/initials circle if no photo is available
- Add a star rating (4–5 stars) above each testimonial text
- Card slider or 2-column grid layout — avoid 3 columns on mobile
- Consider adding a "Google Reviews" badge/link if the business has Google My Business reviews

5.4 Partner / Client Logos Strip

- Add a 'Trusted By' or 'Our Partners' logo strip on the homepage between Products and Testimonials
- Show logos of hospitals, pharmacy chains, or manufacturer partners you work with (with permission)
- Grayscale logos on white background — auto-scrolling marquee or static 5-column grid

- If no logos available yet, use a 'Partner with Us' CTA card in the same position
- Dr. Reddy's shows Gates Foundation, Sanofi, Alvotech — you should show your manufacturer brands

Navigation & Footer Architecture

Mega-menu structure, footer layout, and global navigation specifications.

6.1 Mega-Menu Navigation

Menu Item	Dropdown Children	Notes
Home	— (no dropdown)	Direct link to homepage
About Us	Company Overview Our Story Leadership	Simple links, dropdown on hover
